Fall Protection Instructor Program Description

Our Fall Protection Instructor Program is designed to help Instructor candidates gain a solid technical foundation and a practical grasp of adult learner engagement.

- Program Duration 4 Days
- Certification Duration 3 Years
- Cost $2,200 (includes 20 x Student Manuals / Licenses)
 Additional student manuals / licenses are $40 each
 Training Audit $500 + Travel Expenses / 3 years to re-certify
- Pre-Requisites Pre-Course Theory Exam

Topics Covered

Theory	Practical
Fall Protection User Course Principles of Adult Training CSA/ANSI Standards Fall Protection User Course Review Lesson Planning	Fall Protection User Course Practice Training of Course Material Lesson Plan Delivery Harness Fitting Fall Distance Calculations Fall Protection System Review

Certification Requirements

The Instructor must:

- Pass the Practical components of the Instructor Program
- Pass the Final Theory Exam
- Teach a minimum of 3 classes per year with at least 4 people in each class.

Re-Certification Process

The Instructor will undergo a Training Audit within 6 months prior to expiry. Passing the Training Audit will allow their certification to extend another three years.

The Training Audit fee is $500 + travel costs. The Instructor has the option to attend another Instructor course at the regular course cost, yet minus the expense of student licenses.

Notes

- The Instructor Candidate would become licensed to teach the Haland Learning Inc. 1-day Fall Protection User course.
- All materials would be provided, and the Instructor (or employer) would order student manuals / licenses. The manual / licenses are $40 each.
- The 1-Day Fall Protection User Course has the flexibility to be somewhat customized for your organizations' specific needs. This helps ensure that your training is relevant.

Fall Protection Instructor Program Frequently Asked Questions

Why do I have to buy licenses?

This program is built around delivering our proprietary Fall Protection User course. As such, we must ensure quality and consistency of training materials. License sales also help us fund future development / improvement of the existing course.

Can't I just order licenses as I need them?

Yes, however you are also required to get these upon completion of the instructor program.

Here's why:

1. Increased instructor confidence. An instructor may feel better prepared upon leaving the program if they have 100% of the materials required to teach.
2. Increases legitimacy of the course. Some courses do not provide ANY resources to the instructor. Generally speaking, these courses don't have the same level of respect in the industry.
3. Increase preparedness. Having the licenses on-hand allows the instructor to start teaching as soon as the very next day. We know from experience that its best to teach as soon as possible after being trained in order to quickly improve competency and confidence.

Can't I just take this course and teach my own fall protection?

Yes, you could do this.

However, the certification issued only supports your delivery of this program. If you carried on to teach using 100% of your own material afterwards, it would have no connection to Haland Learning Inc.

In fact, there is no prescriptive regulatory requirement stating that ANY fall protection instructor training is required in order to teach this information to others.

If you choose to deliver your own program, we won't try to stop you. Consider that you'd have to develop your own training materials, your training may not be recognized by industry and that if something goes wrong you would have to defend your actions in court. It all comes down to Risk Perception vs. Risk Tolerance.

At a bare minimum, each candidate is required to purchase 20 licenses as part of their instructor program.

What kind of resources do I get once I'm a Certified Instructor?

Course Materials (Provided by Haland Learning Inc.)

1. Student Manuals
2. Slideshow
3. Certification Cards
4. Instructor Guide (lesson plans, outline etc)
5. Ongoing course improvement, free updates to all Certified Instructors
